BOYCOTT FOR ITALY GIVEN COMMITTEE OK

League Sanction Committee Approved British Plan

BULLETIN

Geneva, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The League of Nations general committee of 52 nations tonight voted to drop the guillotine of a drastic "buy nothing from Italy" boycott on the Italo-Ethiopian war.

The assembled delegates fixed Oct. 31 as the date when the League members will decide just when to let fall this knife the first of its kind in history.

In other words, Premier Mussolini has just eleven days left to think things over. If he has not capitulated in that time to the League's demand for peace, the League will:

1. Amputate 70 per cent of Italy's exports—the percentage normally sold to countries which are members of the League;

2. Extend mutual assistance to league members which are hit by the repercussions resulting from this blockade of trade;

3. Refuse to let Italy receive any "key products" used for the manufacture of war materials from league members.

War Summary

By The Associated Press
DIPLOMATIC MANEUVERS.
Great Britain and France reached an understanding on French aid for the British fleet in the Mediterranean should any emergency arise from the imposition of sanctions.

The League of Nations sanctions committee approved a "Buy Nothing from Italy" proposal. It went to the full plenary committee of the league.

The French Premier, Pierre Laval, found some success in his efforts to lessen the tension between Italy and England.

The British fleet, however, will remain in the Mediterranean. Perhaps later, a few ships may be withdrawn.

None of the diplomatic conversations, however, brought forth any hope for an end to Italy's conquest in Ethiopia.

MILITARY MANEUVERS:
General Emilio de Bono, Italian commander-in-chief, announced the abolition of slavery in all Ethiopian territory held by Italy.

Ethiopian troops were massed below Makale, strategic northern passageway into the interior. The Italians were preparing for the "big push" south from Adowa.

Foreign modern arms reached Addis Ababa; the first result of the League of Nations punishment of Italy.

BOYCOTT APPROVED
Geneva, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The League of Nations' sanctions committee of 18 nations today approved the British proposal for a "Buy Nothing from Italy" boycott and a mutual assistance project for League states which are hit by repercussions of the sanctions.

The two proposals will go before the plenary committee of 52 nations for final approval later today.

The committee of 18 also approved an embargo on the export of "key products" used in the manufacture of war munitions and material.

This project too goes to the plenary committee for approval.

Serves Reservation

The boycott was discussed point by point by the smaller committee, and only Switzerland made reservations. Even this nation, however, did not abstain when the measure as a whole was approved.

The committee decided that on October 31 the larger plenary committee of all league states except Italy and Ethiopia should decide the exact date on which League nations would begin simultaneous enforcement of the boycott.

A member of the committee said that while Switzerland pointed out some difficulties and made a slight reservation, it might almost be said that the boycott proposal "went through like a streak of lightning."

COUNTER DRIVE NEAR ASMARA, Eritrea, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Italian sources were advised today that the Ethiopians south of the area now held by the Italian expeditionary force are preparing actively for a counter-offensive.

Scores of automobiles loaded with munitions are said to have arrived from Addis Ababa at Harar, 160 miles inland from Djibouti.

In addition, it was reported, Ra Nasib is said to have started for Harar with a caravan of hundred

DEATH OF MRS. MARTIN LALLY ENDS SUFFERING

Mrs. Martin Lally passed away at 11:20 this morning at her residence, 123 East Second street, her death terminating an illness of several months duration. Barbara Frances Loftus, the daughter of William and Catherine Loftus, was born in Athens, N. Y., in 1886 and when a small child came west with her parents, who settled in Marion townships. She attended the public schools in Dixon, then entered the Dixon Academy on East Second street, from which she graduated in the profession of teaching.

She is survived by her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Mae Kearney, Misses Helen Genevieve and Frances and one grandson, Charles M. Kearney, all at home. Two children preceded her in death, a daughter Catherine and a son Warren. Two brothers, John H. Loftus of Dallas, Texas, and three sisters, Mrs. John Flannery and Mrs. Ella Manning of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. T. J. Burke of Dixon also survive, together with a host of more distant relatives and friends.

Mrs. Lally was a lovable person, strongly devoted to her family and home. Through her long illness she was a patient sufferer until death ended her suffering shortly before noon today.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock and from St. Patrick's Catholic church at 10:00. Rev. Fr. T. L. Walsh will officiate and interment will be in Oakwood.

Federal Approval Given Several Ill. WPA Road Projects

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Federal approval of Illinois road building projects totalling $81,455,800 today was expected to permit work to start at once despite necessity of a few changes in specifications to meet technical requirements.

The allotment represents 92 per cent of the state's proportional share of the $200,000,000 set aside for roads out of the work relief funds. Previous approval was given expenditures of $10,307,184 for grade crossing removal.

Both sums will be spent primarily in areas having the heaviest relief loads, the department pointed out, with 82 of the state's 102 counties getting a share in the road building.

Construction work to be carried on with these funds is in addition to WPA projects of similar nature, the department added.

Deputies Withdrawn by Northwest Trains

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(AP)—United States Marshal William H. McDonnell announced today he had withdrawn 75 special deputies who guarded Chicago & Northwestern and Wisconsin Central Railroad milk shipments during the strike of producers in the Chicago Milk shed.

He said guarding the trains costs his office approximately $7,000. The guards were ordered by judges of the United States district court because both railroads were in court custody through reorganization proceedings.

Dillinger's Former Housekeeper Sent to State Hospital

Chicago—Miss Anna La Mour, 30 years old, who said she had once been a housekeeper for John Dillinger, was committed to the state hospital at Dixon by Judge Leon Edelman in the Domestic Relations court yesterday. Dr. David B. Roiman, court psychiatrist, who examined Miss La Mour, said that she was a borderline case with subnormal intelligence.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR HALLOWEEN FESTIVAL HERE

Plans for Big Event of the Fall Season are Assuming Shape

Plans to hold boxing matches open to every man and boy in Dixon and surrounding communities who had not had previous ring experience, occupied the attention of the program committee for the first Hallowe'en festival at a meeting of committee chairmen in George Netts' office Friday night.

A plan was advanced to get boys to enter in advance and group them in weights to insure evenly matched bouts. Prizes would be awarded the winners in the several classes. Entries would be sent in to the Dixon Evening Telegraph and published periodically until Hallowe'en. Pairings would be made by the program committee, assisted by Ed Hooker, local boxing promoter. The pairings would also be made according to age limits. Floodlights shining down on the ring would be available. Walter Smith, chairman of the lights and stage committee said.

Should those with boxing experience wish to enter the bouts, they could be paired in separate classes.

COOPERATION ASKED

Dixon merchants are urged to cooperate with the Hallowe'en Festival committee by dressing their windows for Hallowe'en in advance of the Festival date, Thursday, October 31. William Nixon is in charge of window displays.

Leaders of Opposing A. F. L. Forces Took Punch at Each Other

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Mr. Hooker suggested each bout would be limited to about two minutes for inexperienced and unconditioned boxers, and perhaps a longer time for those who were experienced.

Other Features

The program committee is also considering the employment of tumbling acts by Troop 59, Dixon State Hospital, and a German band with clowns. Pie eating, hog-calling, and other contests would also be in vogue and a square dance in masquerade is also under consideration.

It was not decided whether to build one or two platforms for stunts and boxing but two was generally believed more advisable. The platforms would be placed at one side of the street to permit passage of the parade.

Fred Rubin in charge of the parade committee was of the opinion the parade would be better at night. Joe Eichler hinted there might be two, one for school children in the afternoon designed to create interest in the coming evening activities, and a parade of grotesque Hallowe'en floats headed by the Dixon Civic Band in the evening.

Mayor William V. Slothower was consulted as to the availability of the band, and he claimed it would be possible to arrange for the band's presence in the parade.

No Outside Concessions

Popcorn stands and hot dog stands can be easily run by Scouts of both the Boy and Girl troops. Harry Beard of the concessions committee said. No outside concessions at the celebration will be permitted. William Nixon, in charge of window displays said he did not believe it would be necessary to offer merchants prizes for the best decorated windows believing they will cooperate in trimming windows in keeping with the Hallowe'en season. He suggested that prizes be offered in the schools to the room which designed the best face out of pumpkin or any typical Hallowe'en symbol.

Other carnival features such as confetti, masquerades, grotesque figures, masks, and noses, with plenty of whistles and squawkers.

SECOND 'WILL' OF MISER HELD TO BE FORGERY

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Officials of the Cook county public administrator's office today had a handwriting expert's opinion that the purported second will of James Thomas Kelly, "flopouse miser" was forged.

The "will," naming Kelly's distant relative, Mrs. Bertha Morgan, formerly of Shattuck, Ill., and now of St. Louis, Mo., as heir to his $140,000 estate, was received by the probate court Thursday.

Rudolph A. Salmon, handwriting expert, compared the penmanship with Kelly's signatures on bank receipts and said the samples were not the same. He said that in his opinion the purposed will and the address on the envelope in which it was mailed at St. Louis were written by the same person.

At St. Louis Mrs. Morgan expressed surprise when informed of the "will," although she said she had a distant relative on her mother's side named James Thomas as Kelly.

The first will purporting to dispose of Kelly's mysterious hoard resulted in a finding of forgery and six persons were jailed.

The government yesterday filed an $81,531 claim against the estate for alleged non-payment of income taxes from 1914 to 1934.

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER

Mrs. Jennie Mundherk of Hot Springs, S. D., and her sister, Mrs. Charles Troop of Grand Detour, were Dixon visitors today. Mrs. Mundherk came to see her brother, Lincoln Cool, who has been ill for some time. She left Dixon fifty years ago, and ever since that time she has been a constant subscriber to the Dixon Telegraph. She will leave for her home a week from Monday.

BRIEF RIOT IN UNION MEETING AS FISTS FLEW

QUOTATIONS IN DAY'S TRADING LIFTED SHARPLY

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Two labor leaders of clashing viewpoints swapped punches today, precipitating a riotous, but short-lived free-for-all at the American Federation of Labor convention.

The disorder began when John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and chief of the industrial union faction in the federation, engaged in a fist fight with William Hutcheson, president of the Carpenters Union and a craft union faction leader.

Hundreds of delegates from each faction swarmed around the impromptu ringside, pushing, shoving and shouting.

While William Green, the federal president, banged his gavel for order, friends of each of the two main combatants succeeded in separating them.

Hutcheson was finally led from the hall, his face bleeding. Lewis stayed at the convention.

Say Lewis Struck First

Hutcheson told reporters that Lewis swung the first blow. Both are large men, appearing to weigh upwards of 200 pounds apiece.

The riot was the climax so far of the bitter personal feeling developing out of the scrap between craft and industrial unionists over how much mass production industry employees should be organized.

The industrial unionists were to give unrestricted industrial unionism on this principle Wednesday night, but they have continued to seek their goal by asking the convention to give unrestricted industrial union charters to specific industries.

J. L. Case was a high flier, up more than $6 to a new top above $93. Westinghouse Electric advanced nearly $4 to close at $88.

Chrysler rose more than $3 to a new high above $3, and General Motors jumped $1.50 to a new top at $50.

U. S. Steel, American Telephone,

Bethlehem, Union Pacific and International Harvester all rose $1 or more.

Dove Bagged Here Tagged in Florida

Sheriff Ward Miller this morning received a communication from the bureau of biological survey of the United States department of agriculture, which will be of interest to migratory bird hunters of this section.

On Sept. 1, the opening day of the dove hunting season, the sheriff bagged a dove on the Thomas Downs farm in Harmon town, which wore an aluminum leg band. The band was found to the biological survey in Washington and the communication received this morning stated that the band was placed on the leg of an Eastern mourning dove on Nov. 24, 1934, at Key West, Fla., by W. W. Dermitt. The bureau released doves from 50 stations throughout the United States for the purpose of determining the flight of the birds.

It was out of a flight of this kind

MUCH PESSIMISM

Paris, Oct. 19.—High French sources said today they did not believe there was a possibility that France would assign any warships to replace British naval units in the Mediterranean.

Under an official interpretation of Premier Laval's note to London, it was said: "The British ships presumably are in the Mediterranean solely to protect British interests, which France has no obligation to safeguard."

Some French officials failed to share the optimistic tone of the press on the outlook for an early settlement of Italy's war with Ethiopia.

One official said privately: "I am not so sure the situation has improved."

A Frenchman close to the foreign office asked: "How can we give Mussolini any Ethiopian territory now?"

A fear of the possible alienation of Great Britain from the continent in future troubles as a result of the French note's "reservation" was expressed in part of the press.

Officials themselves indicated anxiety to hear the British official reaction to Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary will deliver before the House of Commons Tuesday in order to know where France stands with Great Britain in case Reichsfuehrer Hitler some day puts a new army into action.

AUTUMN MAGIC

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

"LET the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us," wrote an ancient psalmist in the stately funeral hymn of the human race; and that prayer is answered in the multi-colored autumn time.

"Some of us call it autumn,

And others call it God."

What days of splendor — lucid with vision, or dim with mist, haze and smothered sunshine, when the light has an aspect of ancientness and the woodland is like an art gallery what night wistful with memories of summer, life and liveliness

The trees are touched with ripe, mellow tints, and the leaves begin to fall and flutter away, as frail as the fleeting generations of men. The birds, sensing a hint of winter in the air, pack their baggage and betake themselves southward, following a viewless path — like the homing instinct in the soul of man at the end of the day.

God is thanked for beauty. In its soft enchantment matter and spirit blend. Time and Eternity join in a symphony of grace. Let our gladness be the flower of thoughtfulness, and our prayer the fruit of joy in the ancient habits of nature and the rhythm of her ritual.

Some of us hear an autumn anthem singing low in our hearts, as life deepens and the years ripen into such fruitfulness of character and charity as we have grown. What have we done to make the life of man as lovely as the world in which he lives — the brotherhood of humanity equal to the beauty of nature in her hour of bountifulness?

Therefore are we here on this good earth — here today and tomorrow gone — if it be not to take from the ugliness of life and add to its beauty, to subtract from its sorrow and enrich its joy? What other meaning can we find or imagine in these short days of sun and frost? Life is a summer sowing, an autumn harvest, and a great white winter too short for hate, and only long enough for the love that helps and heals.

O. God Eternal, teach us to toil while we may, and do somewhat of good before our spirits take their flight on wings, homeward bound — like doves at Thy window!

Miss Roberts Entertains for Mrs. H. Dockery Thursday Evening

Miss Evelyn Roberts was hostess Thursday evening to a group of friends whom she entertained in honor of her sister, Mrs. Harry Dockery, the former Fay Roberts, whose marriage was a recent event.

Beautiful decorations were in pink and white.

The twelve guests spent a happy evening playing "cootie". Miss Helen Blocher won the first prize; Miss Phyllis Heckman the second, and Miss Maybel Stanley consolation.

Miss Roberts then served a delicious luncheon, the table being daintily appointed in pink and white, the centerpiece of roses and chrysanthemums being especially lovely.

Then a surprise was in store for the guest of honor, for she was presented with a variety of lovely gifts before the guests left the table, and much merriment ensued on the reading of the good wishes accompanying the gifts, for some of them were witty, but all bore affection and regard for the bride.

The bride was to be solemnized in the south bay window in the living room. The Reverend Paul Nelson of the Sterling Congregation church will receive the vows.

The stately rooms of the Utley home have been decorated with a profusion of gorgeous fall flowers and foliage. Large yellow chrysanthemums and oak branches predominate in the decorations.

A wedding collation will be served after the ceremony, the elegantly appointed table in the dining room, being all white, with white candles in silver sticks, white carnations and lilies of the valley. The bride's cake, a triumph of the confectioner's art, is from Chicago and is elaborately made in four tiers, all in white, beautifully ornamented.

THE HALLOWEEN FESTIVAL

The Telegraph feels that the leaders of the Scout organizations in Dixon, both boys and girls, contributed handsomely to their already great volume of value in this community when they conceived and sponsored the idea of a Hallowe'en Festival and put the weight of their organization into the committee which is promoting the plan.

The festival should prove to be a great success and we hope it will be the inauguration of an annual event. Dixon needs something to stimulate civic interest and liven things up and the coming festival is the sort of thing that will do just that.

NEW DEAL "PROSPERITY"

(Star-Courier, Kewanee, Ill.)

Because the Hoover administration was not able to completely conquer unemployment and deflation by sound, conservative means, the American people flocked behind the Pied Piper of Hyde Park. Roosevelt became the man of the hour: the superman whose smiling radicalism would rip through the Gordian knot of depression.

The meteoric first three years of the Roosevelt administration have practically run their course, and what does the record disclose? The country has been given to understand by fireside chats and presidential proclamation that the vast outpouring of federal funds has brought back "prosperity."

In July, 1933, there were approximately 10 million unemployed, according to the statistics of the National Industrial Conference board. By October, 1933, this had dropped to 9,924,000 jobless. At the end of July, 1935, the National Industrial Conference board survey still showed 10,015,000 unemployed.

Another indictment of the New Deal's "prosperity" comes from the New Deal department of labor, its index of employment for October, 1933, was 79.6. For last July it was 79.5. It must be borne in mind that the Roosevelt public works program has resulted in reemploying directly or indirectly approximately 700,000 persons. While this declined in the winter of 1934 to 380,000, it is still at an abnormal peak. In other words, the New Deal has brought about more unemployment.

From another source this week came statistics on unemployment in the United States. The Alexander Hamilton institute estimated unemployment as of July, 1935, at 13,019,000. The all time high for unemployment during the panic month of March, 1933, was 16,814,000. It is to be remembered, however, that at the peak of Wall Street prosperity in October, 1929, there was a technological unemployment of 2,485,000 workers.

Some 7 billion dollars have been poured into "work producing" public works projects under the New Deal. In 1936 alone the budget calls for $4,341,000,000. Plain it is that this vast dumping of federal funds by the New Deal has been unproductive. Instead of "priming the pump," as Roosevelt first considered these vast expenditures, it has choked the natural flow of business and increased unemployment. No government can compete with private enterprise without a huge waste of funds and injury to labor.

The New Deal has not only increased unemployment but increased the cost of living to a marked degree. The United States bureau of labor statistics found that on Aug. 20, 1933, the average cost of a pound of pork chops was 21 cents. Two years later (Aug. 27, 1935) New Deal processing taxes and hog control had stepped up the price to 39.5 cents. Sirloin steak in this same period increased from 29 cents on an average to 41 cents. Lard jumped from 10 cents to 22 cents. Eggs, milk, bread and clothing and other necessities of life increased in the same proportion.

When an impartial inventory is made of the New Deal in 1936 it will be found that the present Democratic administration has done more damage than good. The New Deal, far from conquering depression, has simply produced a depression of a different kind, all of its own making.

AUTO SLAUGHTER CONTINUES

The nation reckoned its highway dead at more than 100 in partial reports from 30 states during the last week-end."

So reads a brief Monday morning news dispatch of recent date; a perfectly ordinary, familiar little story, duplicated on almost every other Monday throughout the year, testifying to the insane folly with which we permit our auto traffic situation to go uncorrected.

You would think that anything which struck down our citizens at the rate of 100 every week-end would stir us to action. But you'd be wrong. We do next to nothing to get the traffic situation in hand. Only a minority of states have a decent system of driver's license and inspection laws. In most places any fool can buy an operate a car, perfectly safe from interference—until, at last, he kills somebody. And so little stories like the one quoted above continue to be regular features of the Monday morning papers.

An expression of appreciation is more satisfying than a sack of gold, if you already have a sack of gold.

Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday—and all is well.

Just when you think you can make both end meet, somebody moves the end.

If you must use a hammer—build a house.

THE TINY MINTIES

Story by HAL COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The County Fair judge said, "Well, now I'll pin this ribbon on somehow, to indicate this funny beast has captured a first prize."

Said Duncy, "Pin it any place. Just stick it on the ol' cow's face. You couldn't hurt that cloth beast if you stuck it in the eyes."

The judge just laughed and said, "Here goes. I'll stick it on ol' boose's nose, and then I hope that we can get the cow to prance around."

The pinning, then, was promptly done. "Oh, ouch!" yelled Duncy. "Just stick it on the ol' cow's face. You couldn't hurt that cloth beast if you stuck it in the eyes."

"Okay," said Windy, "I can last, unless you start to run too fast. Let's do a funny little dance. That ought to bring a roar."

The Times watched them for a while and then wee Goldy, with a smile, exclaimed, "Oh, that was very funny. Kindly dance some more."

By this time Windy felt that he had had enough. He said, "Oh, gee, it's getting hot inside this skin. I need a bit of air."

And then he had a happy hunch that he felt sure would thrill the bunch. Instead, however, when twas pulled, it gave them all a scare.

"Oh, look," yelled Dotty. "That old cow is running in two pieces, now!" And, sure enough, wee Goldy moved from their farm north of town, to Dixon, Wednesday. Mrs. Spratt has lived all her life in the neighborhood from which she moved. Having been born on the farm adjoining her home and when married moved to her farm that she is now leaving. TODAY IN SPORTS

• U.S. BIG TEAMS CLASH TODAY ON GRIDIRON

Notre Dame Takes on Pitt, Navy vs. Yalemens

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Two undefeated eleves and national football championship aspirations came together today as Pittsburgh invaded Notre Dame for one of the outstanding battles of the day.

The Redmen have been drilling constantly for nearly six weeks in preparation for the opening game. Most of the practice sessions have been under floodlights at the airport field. At first it was planned to hold the games there this fall but later developments indicated the games will be held at Dixon high school's field which is expected to draw much larger crowds to the contests.

Providing games can be scheduled regularly by the Redmen, they will be in action every Sunday until Thanksgiving Day as they were last year. Earlier in the season a game with Joliet Penitentiary was being considered, the day in which all the Dixon players would serve a one day "sentence" behind prison walls as the jailbirds are not allowed outside.

Each had won three straight victories and they appeared so evenly matched that such a thing as an upset was out of the question. The setup—a class of undefeated eleves and the promise of excellent weather—stirred up prospects for a crowd of 50,000 or more.

The kickoff was scheduled for 2 P.M.

NAVY, YALE CLASH

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Yale and Navy, both undefeated and rated as a pair of the east's best teams this season, clashed today for the first time since 1901. A crowd of more than 50,000 was expected, provided the weather remained clear.

ARMY SHOOTS AT JINX

West Point, N.Y., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Army's football squad, playing its first major game of the season against a weak Harvard team, sought to break a Crimson "jinx" today. In 14 previous visits to West Point Harvard has never been beaten. The Cadets lacked their regular quarterback, Ralph King, while two Harvard players, Don Jackson and Franny Lane, were unable to play. A capacity crowd of 27,000 was expected.

WASH BACK GREEN WAVE?

Minneapolis, Oct. 19.—(AP)—North and South came to grips today in intersectional football battle as Minnesota's Gophers of national fame tenously tilted with Tideline. Opening a new rivalry on the gridiron front, the Gophers sought to wash back the Green Wave's invasion before a predicted 40,000 fans and forge further toward a repetition of last year's undefeated season.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

One Year Ago Today—Exhibit won the Old Glory Handicap at Empire City track.

Five Years Ago Today—Tex Harper, of Denver, won the national amateur three-cushion billiard championship, beating Max Shimon, 50-39, at Denver.

Ten Years Ago Today—Johnny Brown retained his bantamweight championship of England by knocking out Mick Hill, and announced he would invade the United States to campaign for Charley (Phil) Rosenberg's world title.

Internal Revenues Up Five Per Cent

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Internal revenue collections for the first quarter of this fiscal year are up five per cent over the same period of last year.

The treasury's daily financial statement as of Oct. 15 showed total receipts since July 1 of $1,120,192,387 as compared with $1,121,363,496 in the same period last year. The decrease was attributed largely to legal delays in collecting farm processing taxes.

CINCY BETTER ON PUNTS

Cincinnati, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Conceding the University of Cincinnati an "edge" on punting, Coach Bo McMillin brought his Indiana grididers here today for the seventh meeting of the two teams but their first in 30 years. The game starts at 1:30 P.M. (CST).

STEAM ROLLER MOVES TODAY

Columbus, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Ohio State's football team, picked in the winter books as the coming Big Ten champion, has the first chance to do something about it today in its opening Western conference fray, a game with the Wildcats of Northwestern.

Ohio was minus its No. 1 quarterback, Stan Plincura, who is on the shelf with a wrenched back. Game time was 1 P.M. CST, with about 47,000 customers expected.

SESSION STATE LEGISLATURE IS TO BE LONG ONE

Plenty of Controversy Probable When Law-makers Assemble

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 19—(AP)—With the draft of call for a special session of the General Assembly being prepared, the state House today gave attention to the question of the length of the session and whether the members will be "out of the trenches by Christmas."

Generally, the feeling was that if the session begins on Oct. 29, the date now tentatively set, all concerned will be doing well if sine die adjournment comes in eight weeks which would take the closing date up to Dec. 21.

Governor Horner expressed a hope that all matters included in the call could be cleaned up in two weeks, but few shared his view.

Horner himself frankly admitted that if the session turns into a political free-for-all one guess would be as good as another as to how long it would last.

Plenty of Controversy
Several of the governor's assistants were putting together the call today and from all the information that seeped out of their conferences, it was indicated there would be plenty of meat for a lengthy session.

The governor has said he doesn't know just how far the call will go, but explained delay in its issuance as time devoted to a careful study of the language so that its limitations on subject matter will be strict.

Heading the list will be social security legislation. Many bills must be considered in handling that matter. If preparation of the call's treatment of just one point in the pension legislation is any criterion, a long session is ahead. Six hours were devoted to the instructions in the call for legislation on blind pensions.

15 or 20 Subjects

Aside from that major matter, the call was expected to include between fifteen and twenty subjects, some of which would combine a number of closely related matters.

From a long conference between Ernest Palmer, director of insurance, and the governor grew general belief that the insurance code, a hotly disputed measure of the last session, was "in." If the legislature should go through the long series of hearings and discussions on that proposition similar to those it staged in the last General Assembly before the code was defeated, Easter Sunday would be as sound a guess as any as to adjournment date.

Also controversial and snarled in legal tangles was the motor traffic code and motor vehicle act amendments asked by several sources. Drivers' licenses also may be argued again.

School Legislation Out

School legislation won't require much time, if present indications are borne out in the call. Senator Harry C. Stuttle, Litchfield Democrat, head of a legislative educational commission, has advised the governor his group will not be ready for action in the coming session.

There has been a heavy demand, however, for amendment of the provision of the school laws which requires quarterly disbursements of the common school fund. Unless the greatest possible care is used in wording a request to the Assembly for action on that matter, the governor's call may leave the door open for a bombardment of amendment to the school law.

ers across Lee County beg leave yesterday, except Supervisor to make the following report and Knetsch.

After thoroughly considering the matter our committees have decided that Lee County should participate in the purchase of said right-of-way. We would further recommend that the townships through which this road shall pass, so far as new location is concerned, that the County pay with Motor Fuel Tax money 66% of the purchase price of the right-of-way including damages and fences and that the townships be required to pay 34% of right-of-way. It being understood that the adjoining townships pay 34% jointly including damages and fences. So far as willing of right-of-way is concerned we are of the opinion that the townships should furnish that portion of the road to be widened together with fence damages and other damages if necessary.

We would therefore respectfully recommend that the County purchase the right-of-way with Motor Fuel Tax money and loan to the townships without interest, such sums of money from the Motor Fuel Tax funds as become necessary for the purchase of their portion of right-of-way, with the understanding that the Highway Commissioners affected shall levy 13 1/3 cents on each $100.00 valuation beginning with the year of 1935 until expiration of their term of office as Highway Commissioners if same is necessary for said purpose, to compensate Lee County for all Motor Fuel Tax Money loaned.

Respectfully submitted,

The majority report is in the words and figures following:

Sept. 17, 1935.

TO THE HONORABLE CHAIRMAN AND MEMBERS OF THE LEE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS:

Gentlemen:

Your Committee on Fees and Salaries to whom was referred the matter of increase of salaries for the Janitors at the Lee County Court House, beg leave to petition your Honorable Board for an increase in wages.

More than two years ago we as Janitors were asked to co-operate and take a reduction of $20.00 per month which we did, but conditions have so changed and living expenses increased to the extent that we feel justified in asking the Honorable Lee County Board for the restoration of our original wages; or from $80.00 per month the amount we are now getting, to $100.00 per month, the amount we received before being asked to take a reduction.

Respectfully yours,

D. C. Beigleth

Lee County Court House Janitors.

The Clerk read before the Board the following resolution from Bales and Bales, and upon motion of Supervisor Spencer, seconded by Supervisor Wagner, the said resolution is presented to the Finance Committee with power to investigate and if they see fit, to adopt the resolution.

RESOLUTION.

The Finance Committee reports a proposal from Clarence A. Bales, of Chicago, Illinois, to disclose to them a sum of money belonging to or collectible for the common or general corporate fund of the County of Lee, Illinois, and proposing to furnish said Committee with information and to assist the proper officials of Lee County in collecting same, or as much thereof as the County of Lee is entitled to claim, for a consideration equal to twenty-five per cent of the amount actually collected, said Clarence A. Bales to pay all necessary costs and expenses and his own attorney's fees in making the collection. In case he fails to collect, the County will not owe him anything.

The Finance Committee recommends that the Finance Committee be authorized in its discretion to execute such a contract on behalf of the County of Lee with the said Clarence A. Bales to secure from said Clarence A. Bales said information, and to supervise the collection of said money, and when the money has been turned into the common or general corporate fund of the County of Lee, that the Treasurer be authorized and directed to pay out of the common or general corporate fund to Clarence A. Bales, in full for his services and expenses, a sum equal to twenty-five per cent of the amount collected.

The following resolution from the County Board for the Maintenance of State Aid Gravel and Macadam Roads was read before the Board by the Clerk.

WAR MATERIALS IN QUANTITIES REACH ETHIOPIA

League of Nation's Action in Lifting Embargo Has Quick Effect

to have attacked Makale from the air as a prelude to a new advance. Authorities said Italian capture of Makale, about 60 miles southeast of Adiwa, would prove most difficult. They pointed out that the town is situated on a hill sloping to the north and could be defended easily by only a few snipers.

A more optimistic attitude than had been evidenced hitherto by government officials was now shown.

ITALY BUYS HEAVILY.

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Commerce department trade experts disclosed today from official figures that the United States has been supplying a major part of a big increase in Italian imports of four classes of products easily made into munitions.

Italy's foreign trade figures, not yet available beyond mid-year, show her purchases of American cotton waste, iron and steel scrap, copper, benzol, tuluol and xylool in the first half of the year were double to quadruple the volume for the first six months of 1934.

In every instance the increase in Italian purchases was greater for the United States alone than for all other countries combined.

None of the commodities is on the list of war materials subject to the embargo ordered by President Roosevelt, although cotton waste, for example, can be turned into gun cotton by a simple chemical process.

Secretary Roper has asserted that the munitions board is considering whether the list of materials should be enlarged. He emphasized that the Italo-Ethiopian conflict was not entering into the deliberations, however.

Ethiopia's purchases from the United States are relatively negligible, aggregating $19,000 in 1934. In the first eight months of this year, the commerce department's own figures show, exports to Italy were worth $44,044,203 compared with $40,344,564 in the corresponding months last year.

Emperor Haile Selassie said the Ethiopian army would not use gas on the grounds that thousands of innocent women and children must inevitably be killed if its use were general.

Dr. Robert William Hockman of Wheaton, Ill., medical missionary, reached Addis Ababa from Ogaden today and said he had handled more than 150 cases of gas poisoning.

He added that scurvy, however, was claiming more victims than the fighting itself and appealed to the emperor to rush all available lemons, oranges and other scurvy antedotes to Ogaden.

Ethiopian authorities anticipated a definite advantage over Italy on the northern front in their first major battle, apparently developing along Makale.

"Are we really going to come to grips with the invaders at last?" was the question heard on all sides after Ras Seyoun, Ethiopian commander in the north, was reported massing his forces for a determined stand.

Praise Italians.

Italian headquarters made known that when the Abuna, or bishop of the Ethiopian holy city of Aksum, went to Adiwa to submit to General Emilio de Bono, commander-in-chief of the Fascist forces in East Africa, he said in a formal speech:

"We know that from Rome comes civilization and also that it has regard for our church and religion. The right of Rome to dominate is a spiritual right, deriving from the goodness and force of its laws."

General de Bono, in a speech to the clergy at Aksum and Adiwa yesterday, the text of which was released today, said Italy would pay the people of Tigre province for damages caused by the military occupation, and "restore the fortunes of Tigre which was under the oppression of chieftains who deprives it of its wealth."

DANE POSTAL CLERK BEGAN T. B. BATTLES

Found Method for Raising Funds to Fight It

How the dream of a Danish postal clerk provided the world with a method of raising funds to fight tuberculosis was recounted here today by W. P. Shahan, executive secretary of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association, as state and local organizations throughout the country prepare for the twenty-ninth annual Christmas Seal Sale.

To Elmar Holboell, an obscure office employee in Copenhagen, goes the credit for starting in 1904 the first sale of a charity stamp for combating tuberculosis, Shahan related. Holboell had been interested for some time in the tuberculosis problem in his country. Copenhagen needed a hospital for tuberculosis children, but funds were not available. As this postal clerk stood at his desk, daily calculating thousands of stamps carrying the season's greetings to friends of the senders, he conceived the idea of a stamp which would carry to the sick, and money from its sale would finance the needed hospital.

With the aid of the Royal Danish family, Holboell organized the first tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale and started an idea which has been responsible for most of the tuberculosis control measures put into effect throughout the world.

First Seals Sold

The first Christmas seal was not sold in the United States until 1907. In that year Jacob Ruis, a social worker, received from his native Denmark a letter bearing an extra stamp of curious design. Inquiring, he found it was a Christmas seal. Later he wrote an article about it for the magazine, "Outlook."

One of the magazine's readers, Miss Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington, Delaware, was interested in a small tuberculosis hospital which was badly in need of funds. She saw immediately how she could adapt the tuberculosis seal idea to her own problem. With the aid of a local newspaper, she sponsored the first American sale and realized $3,000 for her hospital.

From then on the Christmas seal rapidly became a nation-wide enterprise, Shahan said, in 1910 coming under the management of the National Tuberculosis Association. Since 1910 it has carried the red double-barred cross, international emblem of the crusade against tuberculosis.

The fight occurred along the Sennet river, which marks the western end of the Eritrean frontier.

Many Ethiopian chieftains and their followers in the Omager region were then reported to have made submission to the Italian authorities.

He added that scurvy, however, was claiming more victims than the fighting itself and appealed to the emperor to rush all available lemons, oranges and other scurvy antedotes to Ogaden.

TEACHERS END ANNUAL MEETING ON FRIDAY

Will Return to Dixon for 1936 Institute Result C. C. Pledge

The annual one-day institute of the Rock River division of the Illinois State Teachers Assn. came to a close yesterday afternoon, and the 1200 educators who attended carried home with them memories of a most enjoyable and profitable session. They will return to Dixon again next year, this city having been selected as the association's permanent convention city as a result of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce guaranteeing the teachers a meeting place each year.

During yesterday's program the teachers heard a defense of present day curricula of secondary schools by a liberal arts professor from the University of Chicago, and denunciation of "impractical" subjects by a nationally known school executive.

FAVOR CURRICULA CHANGE

G. J. Laine, dean of the division of the humanities at the University of Chicago, declared that "many of the so-called impractical subjects make for greater contributions toward humanity as a whole than many of the so-called practical subjects."

Man is still a semi-barbarian, Dean Laine charged as he defended the "cultural" subjects. He declared culture has lagged far behind the mechanical progress of our civilization.

This stand was contradicted by James H. Richmond, state superintendent of public instruction in Kentucky, who declared he favored the revamping of high school curricula to make vocational subjects requisites and the required subjects of today into electives.

Reiterating part of his address made here Thursday at the Lee county teachers' institute, Richmond urged his listeners to desert the conservative throw-backs to other generations and remodel the American school system to keep pace with the rapid developing social reconstruction taking place throughout the world.

REVAMPING ADVOCATED

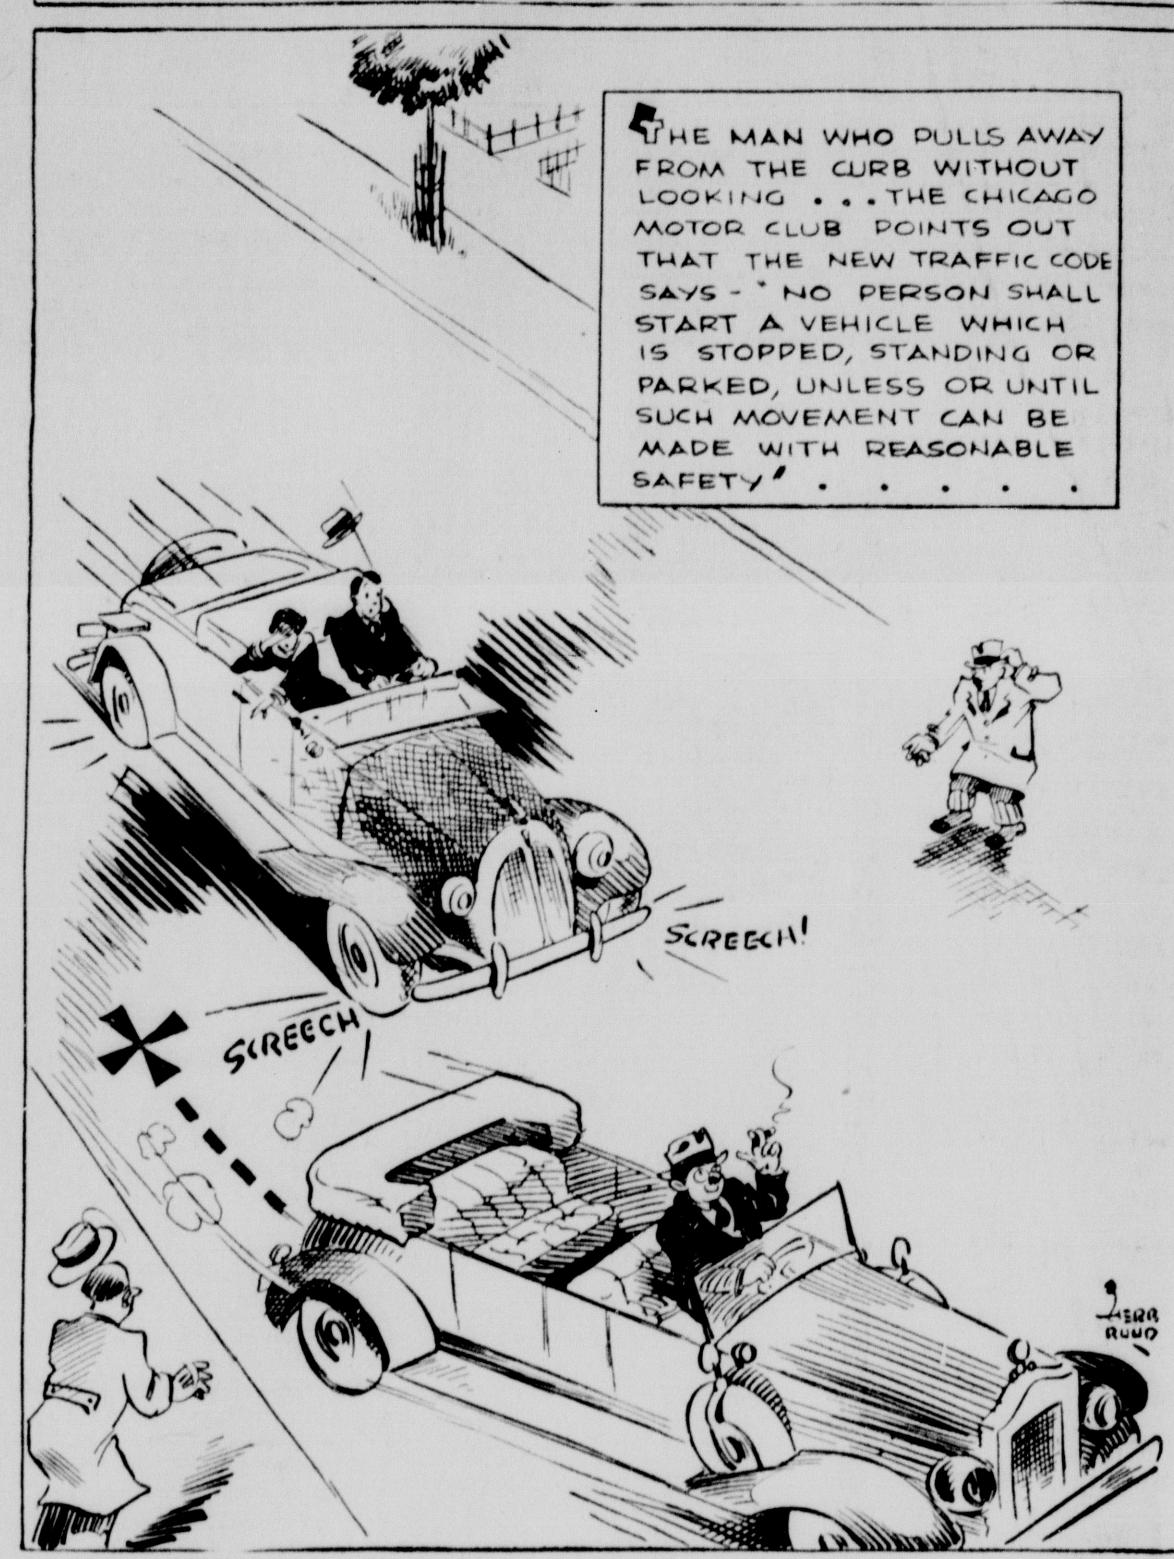

Among the changes he advocated were a unification of educational methods throughout the entire country; a better system of training for teachers; and a higher wage basis for members of the teaching profession.

He pointed out that although 80 per cent of American school children are in elementary schools, less than 40 per cent of the total amount of funds spent for schooling goes to grade schools. This should be changed, he said, so that the great majority of the students should get their just share of adequate schooling.

The wages paid school teachers throughout the country, were described as a "national disgrace." This, he said, was particularly true in elementary schools where salaries are far below those paid in secondary schools and other higher institutions of learning.

Richmond declared first grade teachers should be the highest paid members of the teaching profession. "It is far more important to have a good teacher in the first grade than to have a good science teacher, a Latin instructor, or a social science professor, higher up."

"Most in Universities"

"The best teaching in America today, is done in the elementary schools, while the worst is in the universities," he charged.

A report of the resolutions committee advocating immediate action by the Illinois General Assembly to appropriate sufficient funds to pay schools a deficiency of $6,125,000 in the state distributive fund for the past biennium, and an appropriation to cover the arrearage in the distributive funds for 1931 through 1933, were unanimously approved.

The resolution as approved demanded equal educational opportunity for every child from kindergarten through high school to be achieved by Federal and state aid "administration by educators who are unhampered by political control."

HOLC to Foreclose on 52 Properties in Illinois, Wisconsin

Chicago, Oct. 19—(AP)—Charles Collins, acting regional director of the HOLC, announced today 52 foreclosure suits had been recommended against delinquent property owners in Illinois and Wisconsin.

He said 15 of the 52 recommended suits, involving property with a total value of $236,000, actually had been started and that 11 other owners had made voluntary conveyance of their homes in lieu of court action.

The total number of HOLC loans in the two states, he said, was $8,000. Most of the foreclosure recommendations were made, he said, because of "obstinate refusal" of borrowers to pay loans far in arrears.

Flying Tour Enlists Public in Memorial

New York, Oct. 19—(AP)—Starting on a 40-day flying tour which will take him over every state and during which he will visit 78 cities in the interests of the "Will Rogers Memorial Fund," Lieut. Commander Frank M. Hawks left North Beach airport today for Hartford, Conn.

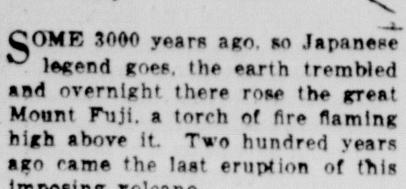

Hawks is flying a navy ship loaned for the purpose and estimates he will fly 16,000 miles. Hawks will announce the Rogers memorial campaign which opens Nov. 4, and ends Thanksgiving Eve.

STORIES IN STAMPS
By I. S. Klein
SACRED MOUNTAIN of JAPAN

SOME 3000 years ago, so Japanese legend goes, the earth trembled and overnight there rose the great Mount Fuji, a torch of fire flaming high above it. Two hundred years ago came the last eruption of this impeding volcano.

The great cone-shaped mountain rises 12,395 feet above sea level. For a short time during summer thousands of worshippers from all over Japan come and climb its slope, stopping at each of 10 stations on the way, where priests brand their long white staves of new wood to mark their progress. Most of the pilgrims are poor, and come as the fortunate representatives of their districts whose inhabitants have contributed to their expenses. After the trip, they bring back the blessings of the priests and the mark of their pilgrimage on their wooden staves.

The stamp shown here illustrates this sacred mountain. It was issued in 1922. Another stamp showing Fujiyama was printed in 1926. (Copyright, 1935, N.E.A. Service, Inc.)

Washington Parade

By CARLISLE BARGERSON

Washington—The White House hasn't said anything about it but there is really no need now for the preachers to answer those "How'm I Doin?" letters which the President sent to them just before he went off on his vacation. If it were to buy anything it would probably be "much oblige" but there is no need to answer because something else has now come along."

The something else to come along, of course, is the war in Ethiopia. People generally are saying the war is a fine commentary on civilization but the political minds hereabouts are saying it is the greatest break Mr. Roosevelt has had in a long time. It has taken over the front pages and given the people something else to think about just at a time when their thinking about what was going on in Washington was not very complimentary to the New Deal. For the time being, at least, it has served to divert their minds from the potato spectacle. And the applause on his ringing declaration that any American who traded with either of the belligerents did so at his own risk was loud and long.

"I'll write your answer for you," this Tory, reactionary or neanderthal man, grimly replied.

MEN AND DOGS

The individual who jokingly observed that the more he saw his men have had a unique dog—for friends the better he liked his dog according to Professor Pavlov, who has devoted a long lifetime to the study of the psychological reactions of dogs, there is not very much temperamental difference between human beings and dogs.

At the last international neurologic congress, held in London, Professor I. Pavlov, the famous Russian physiologist, stated that it is possible to distinguish four types of dogs.

The four types of dogs Professor Pavlov classified as: the strong unbridled, the strong balanced and slow, the strong balanced and quick, and the weak.

These classifications strangely enough correspond to the four temperaments into which Greek physicians divided all of mankind.

Under experimental conditions Professor Pavlov reported, it is possible to produce neuroses—that is, disturbances in the working of the animal's organs which are emotional or psychologic in origin—in both the unbridled and in the weak type of dog. In the unbridled type of dog, there is a distinct loss of self-control. In the weak type of dog, experiments produced either a complete failure of the higher nervous activities or their disorganization. In the first type, the dog cannot inhibit or control its impulses. In the second, it loses whatever intelligence it possessed.

The dissatisfaction among producers, he told a convention of the International Association of Milk Dealers here, is due to the failure of farmers to continue to receive "high prices" for their product.

Wentworth declared the "high prices" had been created by a combination of the 1934 summer drought, the government's restriction on the number of producers and the arbitrarily fixed prices for milk in the drought area.

George Gruenwald, for Dissolution in Dairy Farmer Banks

St. Louis Oct. 19—(AP)—The federal government is blamed by R. A. Wentworth, Washington, D. C., secretary of the dairy industry committee, for the dissension among milk producers which has resulted in mob violence and rioting in several large cities.

The dissatisfaction among producers, he told a convention of the International Association of Milk Dealers here, is due to the failure of farmers to continue to receive "high prices" for their product.

Wentworth declared the "high prices" had been created by a combination of the 1934 summer drought, the government's restriction on the number of producers and the arbitrarily fixed prices for milk in the drought area.
